SUBJECT	CIA Has Open House For Community Residents

LESLIE STINSON: About 200 area McLean residents turned out at a public hearing last night to protest the traffic problems they foresee because of the expansion of the CIA.

The expansion is set for next spring. It would bring about three thousand new employees to McLean.

After the meeting, officials for the CIA and the National Parks Service agreed to study the effects of putting more traffic from the CIA on the George Washington Parkway.
